Community Notification

Early warnings for affected or potentially affected community members for any significant pollution incident will be communicated to those members via a door knock process.

For air pollution incidents that may affect community members, those community members may be asked to either close their doors and windows and stay indoors until further notice or vacate the premises. For water pollution incidents that may affect community members, those community members may be asked to avoid use of the water until further notice.

Further updates may include but not be limited to:

- Further door knocks
- Telephone contact
- Letterbox drops
- Notices in local papers
- Update to Nace website
- Providing signage, protective fencing and barricading to prevent community stakeholders from entering into a polluted area
- Use of technology such as Variable Message Signage

The Appropriate Regulatory Authorities may be consulted to determine how the community is to be notified of the pollution incident and the most relevant communication strategy.
